Local Organizations Support the Fountaindale Library District

Libraries often enjoy support from individuals and organizations in their local communities and the Fountaindale Public Library is no exception. In the past year, the Library has benefitted from a record year of giving. We take this opportunity to extend our appreciation for the support and commitment to the Library. The Board, staff and library users join collectively in thanking the Friends of the Fountaindale Library, Bolingbrook Walmart, and R. R. Donnelley Logistics for their generous donations.

Bolingbrook Walmart

In recognition of the role that the Fountaindale Public Library plays in supporting literacy in the community, the Bolingbrook Walmart presented a donation to Ruth Sanecki, Board Treasurer and Lydia Acosta, Library Director in December. Michael Gustafson, previous manager of the Bolingbrook Walmart, presented a check for $1,000 to aid the library in its literacy efforts. The donation is being used to purchase adult books for use in the bookmobile.

Friends of the Fountaindale Public Library

For more than 21 years, the Friends of the Fountaindale Public Library have been working diligently in the community to raise support and awareness for the libraries of the Fountaindale District. The membership of this organization is comprised of more than 100 persons who are motivated by their love of books, reading, libraries, and service to their community. The Friends have donated more than $60,000 in gifts to the District since their inception. These funds are generated through the sale of used books, library book bags, entertainment books, donut cards and other projects. In February 2002, President Barbara Pardol presented a check for $7,200 to Lydia Acosta to fund the furniture for the Activity Room in Romeoville, to purchase materials for the bookmobile, and support the book prizes donated in the Reading Rocks 2002 Summer Reading Program. Staff member and artist Mike Rank created the delightful literary mural which decorates the Activity Room wall.

R.R. Donnelley Logistics

The R. R. Donnelley Foundation has donated $25,000 to Fountaindale Public Library's new bookmobile serving the District residents in Bolingbrook and Romeoville. Additionally, the community involvement team of the R. R. Donnelley Logistics Diversity Council is donating a collection of children's books that promote multi-cultural awareness and diversity. In recognition of this significant contribution, this special children section will be recognized as the "R.R. Donnelley Logistics Children's Diversity Corner."

Presenting the donation at the August 22nd meeting of the Board of Trustees in Romeoville, President of R.R. Donnelley Logistics, John Campanelli remarked, "On behalf of the R.R. Donnelley Logistics' Community Involvement Team and Diversity Council, we are pleased to present these gifts to the Fountaindale Library for their bookmobile." Our company believes strongly in the value of a diverse culture and the importance of giving back to our communities. Supporting the library's bookmobile gives us the opportunity to achieve both of those goals. Above all, we support the library's mission to promote literacy and love of reading among the children and adults within the community they serve."

Educational Resource Center Added to Library

Through the efforts of the Valley View School District, the DuPage Township Youth Service Department, and the Fountaindale Library, the residents of Bolingbrook and Romeoville now have a brand new Education Resource Center.

This Resource Center is open to the public and is designed to promote "Prevention and Intervention" on current issues and subjects that are relevant to youth and teens.

This center has something to offer everyone. Whether you are a teen searching for some information on a subject or a parent looking for some help, this center can provide you with the tools, resources, and organizations that can be of assistance.

The publications are free and we encourage everyone to stop by, visit the center, and take advantage of these tools and resources that your local community agencies have provided for you.

The center was funded by "The Safe To Learn Grant," which the Valley View School District was awarded, facilitated through the DuPage Township Youth Department, and the space to host the center, was provided by the Fountaindale Public Library.

This was a collaborative effort by all three agencies, a great addition to both communities, and just another way that your local leaders are working to be pro active for our youth.

Get Graphic! Zine Workshop

Are you an artist? A writer? Do you have some wacky ideas or interests that you want to share with other people? Here's your chance to see your words and pictures in print! The Fountaindale Public Library is starting a "zine" workshop group, and if you're in 6th through 12th grades you're invited. What is a zine? Think independent magazine for a start and come with some fresh ideas. We will be publishing two volumes of our zine this fall—so you can be a part of either one or both of them. Come to the first meeting of each session to find out about zines, plan our zine, and decide what you want to contribute to the project. The second and third meetings will be workshops where we will edit, layout, and create the first Fountaindale Teen Zine. You can participate in either library building. Check the YA calendar for dates, and keep your eyes peeled in October for the zine release party, too.

Super Hero Contest

Create your very own superhero comic book cover! We want original covers for comics you've designed and created. Starting on September 30th, if you are in 6th through 12th grade, we want you to bring the cover art for your own comic into either library. All comic covers will be displayed in the YA area, and a vote for the best cover will take place on November 4th in Bolingbrook, and on November 6th in Romeoville. Winners will receive a $50 gift certificate for Borders. Prizes will also be awarded for 2nd and 3rd place finishers. Sharpen your colored pencils, break out your markers, and get ready to flood the libraries with superheroes!

Gems or Junk? The Internet has SO MUCH information – but how do you find sites that can give you that extra edge in your research projects? And more importantly, how do you avoid incomplete, or just plain wrong material? Come to the library to learn about finding and evaluating web-based information. We will cover the basics of searching in databases, effectively using search engines, and assessing the quality of various webpages depending on your research needs. We'll also touch on plagiarism and Internet safety. Basic knowledge of computers and Internet use is required.

How to Get That First Job! We know how it goes—you've got the school thing under control, you want to make a little cash for the weekends, but what next? Have you found that getting that first job isn't as easy as you always thought it would be? Could it be that you just aren't quite as prepared as you believed? Come to this workshop, and learn the proper way to fill out an application form, dress for an interview, and field the interview questions with ease. This workshop is open to high school students. Refreshments will be served.

The Lass That Couldna Be Frightened

Roberts Marionettes will present the folktale, The Lass That Couldna Be Frightened. The people of a Scottish town felt that nothing could frighten this lass, not even its goblin. But, it is hard to be brave all of the time, isn't it? Ms. Roberts adapted this folktale to the marionette stage and designed the costumes, sets, and music to authentically portray the historical period of the play. During the performance she operates all of the marionettes and creates voices for all of the characters. The performances are at the Bolingbrook Library Monday, October 14 from 1:00 – 1:45 p.m. or 2:30 – 3:15 p.m. Tickets are available starting October 7.
